Black Ice Software - November 13, 2013

Printer Driver custom INI file generation!

For MSI Installations for large scale deployments

The Black Ice Printer Drivers Installer can be used to generate a custom INI file for MSI installers. The Printer Drivers Installer has a built-in feature to generate custom INI files through the usual installation process of the Black Ice Printer Drivers. The generated INI files can be used for custom MSI Installations for large scale deployments, or to export/import custom configurations between systems.

To create a custom INI file one needs a system to perform a manual installation of the printer driver to configure the printer with the desired features and functions.

When the Installation is finished successfully, the generated INI files can be used by Administrators and System Integrators for custom MSI Installations for large scale deployments.

To read the step-by-step description about how to generate custom INI file through the Installation, please click on the following link: INI file generation through the Installation.
