The recently released Printer Driver RTK/API version 14.92 comes with new advanced printer driver installation technology for developers.

The new and improved printer driver installation comes with a new Package Installation feature, allowing customers to share the Printer Drivers between 32-bit and 64-bit operating systems.

By using the new advanced install technology, developers can install the printer driver and driver package easily with a single function call.

The new installation technology also comes with a new feature to add a Parallel Printer to an existing Black Ice printer driver with a single function call.

Parallel Printers offer parallel document conversion when printing documents to different printers at the same time. The Printers also can be configured separately, allowing users to easily preconfigure the printers for specific tasks. Parallel printing results in faster document conversion leading to less wait time.

Improve fax server throughput capacity with the new parallel printing technology by having multiple fax channels served by a single parallel printer driver.

The latest Printer Driver includes stability improvements for deleting files after they have been uploaded to SharePoint, for the custom file naming feature and for printing EMF documents from Shared printers.

The latest Printer Driver also includes a new Date and Time option for the custom file naming, a new feature for linear barcodes to change the height of the barcode, and extended logging for the Document Converter Configuration Manager.

The complete list of improvements in the latest Printer Driver includes the following:

- Minor user interface improvements for registration
- Added option to the Printer Manager to enable or disable the Merge Window
- Stability improvement for the custom file naming
- Added Date and Time option to custom file naming
- Stability improvement for printing EMF documents from shared printers
- Stability improvement for uninstallations - restarting the printer spooler service to avoid system restarts
- Extended logging of Document Converter Configuration Manager
- Stability improvement for the Delete files after uploading to SharePoint option
- Added option to change the height of linear barcodes
- Stability improvement for opening the Printing Preferences window from Printer Manager if it is already opened for another user
- Stability improvement for barcode value validation in the Printer Manager for Agent Printers
